The witnesses were also closely questioned and in some cases, where the answers were not satisfactory, the applicants were rejected.

The authorities could readily discove what naturalization papers have been fraudulently issued. Reporters of "The Evening World" took names from the hazard and had no trouble in discovering frauds that illustrate how wide spread is this candal.

"The New York World's" disclosure of the wholesale issue of fraudulent naturalization papers is too circumstantial and too well attested on its face to be lightly regarded, and it leaves no room for question that the shameful business, carried on so widely and so openly, must have had connivance in some high quarter. Now that the business has been exposed, it should be made extremely hazardous for those holding the fictitious papers to attempt to make use of them in future elections, while those concerned in issuing them should be made to travel without delay the railroad on which Boss McKane was recently a passenger.

"About Feb. 19," was the Inspector's answer.

"About Feb. 10," was the Inspector's answer.

"Did I not tell you I had raided the place before; and that now Annie Gray was doing a quiet business, letting no one in only such as she knew, and then by way of the basement door?"

The answer was "You did."

"Did you report these facts to Supt. Byrnes?" asked Capt. Haughey. "I did," answered Inspector McAvoy. Policemen Lynch and Arnogh were then called. They were out in clitzen's clothes by order of Capt. Haughey for the purpose of getting evidence against this house.

Large amounts of money were offered by them, but no violation of the Excise law or any other law could be obtained. Capt. Haughey then made his personal defense against the charge. He produced a copy of the conviction paper showing the disposition of Annie Gray and a former raid on her house by him. It was admitted in evidence at the Captain's request.

Banks Cannot Get Rid of Money

As a rule prices were higher strong. nd the advance elicited few offerings. It is to be noted that while the rovement is very gradual many stocks are each day creeping up to what ap pears to be a permanently higher level. This is because of the faith of opera ors in a veto of the Bland bill and belief that the superabundance of money will result in a continued absorption of all good dividend and interest payers.

London contributed not a little to the more confident feeling, having taken about 12,000 shares of its specialties. The effect of this was witnessed in a distinctly easier tone of the market for exchange and a reduction in the posted rates for bankers' bills on London to 4871-2 and 489. The foreign bankers had buying orders for bonds from the Continent as well as from London.

Court opened to-day with the reading of the previous day's record, and then the witnesses heard yesterday were handed their testimony, as taken by the court's stenographen and told to make whatever corrections were necessary.

Lieut.-Col. Bowman was the next re-called to the stand, and Mr. Marix took up the direct examination. Mary Kline Wants a Warrant called to the stand, and Mr. Marix took up the direct examination.

Lieut. Bowman was asked a few technical questions concerning his method of working out the results he had obtained from a study of the Kearsarge's charts, and then Commander Heyerman was put on the stand in his own defense. Only one question was asked him by his counsel. It was:

"Had you any reason to suppose, or did you know, at any time on Feb 2 that all the positions of the Kearsarge as handed to you were not the results of the calculation made personally by your navigator?"

"No, sir.
